

Keynote: The Impossible is Just an Illusion

John Drebinger delivers fun, magic, and stories to help you achieve the success you seek for a safe and productive workplace. His story of how he went from being a fan of our nation's space program to actually sitting on board three of our space shuttles has inspired thousands to raise the expectations, vision, passion, and energy of their workforce to build a safer and more productive workplace!

For more than 18 years, John W. Drebinger, Jr. C.Ht. CSP (Certified Speaking Professional) has served a diverse list of clients including: NASA, ExxonMobil, General Motors, US Army Corps of Engineers, Ames Construction, Motiva, Powder River Coal, Bechtel, Granite Construction, JTL Group, Con Edison, Anheuser Busch, Entergy Nuclear, Arkema, Conoco Phillips Chemical, Shell Oil, Halliburton, Valero, FBI, and many others. Nicknamed the "Master of Safety Communication" because of the results his clients achieve, John helps his audiences effectively convey their message in a way that gets results! Drebinger is also the well-known author of Mastering Safety Communication, recognized by members of the safety industry as an outstanding training resource, loaded with communication techniques to enhance safety performance.

www.drebinger.com

Breakout Session:

Effective Motivational and Communication Skills for Leaders Who Make a Difference!

Communication is not complete until the desired result is achieved! As safety, health, environmental, and security leaders, we do not want to see anyone injured in the workplace, but oftentimes are frustrated that our meetings or messages do not get the results for which we are looking. Discover the techniques that the best communicators around the world use to make their message effective and go beyond what you had done so far to achieve new levels of success!

Join John Drebinger, author, communication and motivational expert, as he takes you beyond just teaching safety to developing new skills that will help employees embrace safety as a value and take action. Using some magic and fun, John will teach you how to raise the expectations, vision, passion, and energy of your workforce to build a safer and more productive workplace!